Summer Health Professions Education Program

Building a Culture of Health

The Summer Health Professions Education Program (SHPEP)* offers an educational opportunity for first- and second-year college students interested in exploring a career in the health professions. The program's focus is on increasing diversity of health professionals. The career tracks include dentistry, medicine, nursing, optometry, pharmacy, physical therapy, physician assistant, and public health.

Apply today and start building a successful career in the health professions.

Working Together Across an Array of Health Professions

SHPEP scholars are able to:

- Recognize how others' skills and knowledge complement and overlap with their own.
- Identify the benefits of the interprofessional team approach for patients, health care professionals, family members, communities, and health systems.
